

From The Ground Up

Authentic Leadership in the 21st Century

Pullman Brisbane - King George Square

10-12 October 2016

The National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Principals Association (NATSIPA) and Te Akatea Maori Principals Association have jointly collaborated to offer a unique and powerful opportunity to showcase Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander and Maori leadership in action. In October 2016 the two principal associations have agreed to organise a joint conference.

Each day a new focus will feature as part of our overall theme; From the Ground Up: Authentic Leadership in the 21st Century. Day one will highlight The Past, the second day will feature The Present and we will finish up with the voice of our children to highlight the importance of The Future and the role that our young people play as our future leaders.

There is a significant gap in the employment outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in the education sector compared to the total teaching workforce. Ninety-seven percent of all teachers are of white middle class background. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students still rarely see their own people teaching in the classroom and even more rare is the likelihood of having an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander principal.

Our conference will celebrate the diversity of our educators leading educational change in to the 21st Century. How exciting to be sharing this important event as First Peoples from Australia and New Zealand. We are able to determine our future directions and everyone is welcome.
